THE BEAR

Foreword

"If we must die . . . let it be with our backs against the wall . . . but fighting back." Claude McKay's famous words echo more importantly to black people at the commencement of the "seventies" than they ever have since he wrote them. The new awareness of black men finds us fighting back. We are waging our defense through armed insurrection, legal interpretation, passive demonstration, achievements, and knowledgeable preparation.

It is to this latter attribute, knowledgeable preparation, that Shaw University strives to remain a vanguard. This institution interprets its role in terms of its people and the communal and academic tools that are needed for the struggle. The editor and his staff hope that this book will give you a feeling of the flavor of our arena of preparatory learning — POWER TO THE PEOPLE!

Honorable Angie Brooks
Class of 1949 – Shaw University

Dedication Message

When the General Assembly of the United Nations convened in September 1969, the first lady president since Madame Pandi in 1953 was presiding. The Honorable Angie Elizabeth Brooks had become president of the General Assembly for the 24th session.

A close friend said, "She started with nothing, but look at her now." Two friends, one the pastor of her Baptist church in Liberia, and the other the minister's old schoolmate who was then president of Shaw University, played an important role in how she came to Shaw. The clergyman persuaded the president to grant Angie a work scholarship on her promise that she would do almost anything to finish school. At Shaw she earned her way by cooking, washing dishes, scrubbing floors, doing laundry, and just about any other chore that would assist her through the University. She graduated from Shaw with a degree in social science and earned two more degrees at the University of Wisconsin, one in law and the other a masters in political science. She spent two more years studying international law in London, England.

In 1954 Miss Brooks was called upon to fill a vacancy in the Liberian delegation to the United Nations. She readily complied and thus began her distinguished career in that body. During her rise to fame she never forgot Shaw University, her first step in these United States. She has returned many times to her alma mater. On a 1963 visit she joined a "sit in" and helped call national attention to desegregation efforts in Raleigh.

Shaw recently awarded her an honorary Doctor of Laws (LL.D.), for she has depicted everything worthwhile in a Shaw student. It is with this same pride in our own that we dedicate this 1970 Bear to the Honorable Angie Elizabeth Brooks – Shaw University Class of 1949

The Editor Speaks:

Shaw University has long been a school of progressiveness whose center of attention has been what it could contribute to the community. In 1970, the year this university launches its 70 decade development program, Shaw is more involved than it has ever before been with the community. The Division of Extension Education has firmly entrenched itself this year and shows nothing but promising signs. The new mobile units to be utilized as community health information agencies have been completed this year also. 1970 is furthermore the year of Shaw's total commitment to the Southside community via the Southside Urban Development and Educational Facilities Charette.

Shaw University will be pouring into the communities across the country this year the resources and abilities of some of the nation's most talented black graduates. It is my hope that as you read the 1970 Bear, you will get a flavor of this University as we experience it. I hope that you will be able to see how a tradition of high academic principles and family unity have through the ages helped us ascend from the Old to the New.

*Respectfully,
Kermit "KC" Burton*

Supplement

We have left behind the tumultuous and exciting decade of the sixties. We face the future and the seventies with a new hope and expectation that man will acquire deeper insights, greater compassion, and a sharper commitment to resolving some of society's basic problems.

The reforms which you have inspired and prompted here, at Shaw, represent the beginning of a re-focus of higher education. It is clear that if we are to develop an educational environment which develops the characteristic excellence of which men are capable, we must continue to be effective self-critics.

We hope and expect that the graduates of 1970 will take their places among the leaders of men. You represent the life-blood and the future of our nation and of mankind. We know that you will serve well. Whatever may be your calling or vocation, always remember the biblical injunction: "Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might."

Historical Statement

The overt hostilities of Civil War had barely ceased when Dr. Henry Martin Tupper of Monson, Massachusetts, an honorably discharged chaplain of the Union army, arrived in Raleigh with his wife Mrs. Sarah B. Turner. The date was October 10, 1865.

Less than two months later Dr. Tupper assembled a theological class in the old Guion Hotel of Raleigh. Thus the reality that ultimately became The Shaw University began — December 1, 1865.

The rapid growth of the theological class was a mandate to Dr. Tupper to expand his activities. With $500.00 he had saved while in the army he bought a lot on the corner of Blount and Cabarrus Street. On this location he built with assistance from his adherents a two story wooden structure from the trees he and his adherents had cut from the forests. It was one of the largest buildings of its kind in the city of Raleigh. It was called the Raleigh Institute.

The site on which Shaw University now stands was purchased in 1870. At the time of purchase it was called the General Barringer Estate. In 1871 the name of the school was changed to Shaw Collegiate Institute, a name it retained until the Institution was chartered and incorporated in 1875 under the name of The Shaw University.

Thirty five years after Dr. Tupper began the theological class in the old Guion hotel the first theological degrees were conferred by the theological Department of The Shaw University. In 1900 four students received the Bachelor of Theology (B.Th) degree.

The subsequent development of theological education at Shaw University reveals an attempt to adapt to the changing demands of the ministry and to appropriate significant changes occurring in theological education in the nation.

April 15, 1933 the School of Religion was established by an act of the Board of Trustees of the Shaw University. The curriculum involved a six year period of study upon completion of which the student received the combination Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Divinity degrees.

The combination A.B. — B.D. program was in vogue for 20 years. In 1953 it was discontinued and replaced by a full three year program of theological study leading to the Bachelor of Divinity degree. Possession of the Bachelor of Arts degree was prerequisite for admission to the program.

During the 1960-61 academic year another significant change occurred. Prior to this time theological education was always an integral part of the Shaw University. In 1960-61 the School of Religion began to function as an independent, autonomous body and the name was changed to the Shaw Divinity School. It still, however, remained under the direction of the Board of Trustees of The Shaw University.

Another milestone was reached in September, 1969 when the Shaw Divinity School was chartered for the first time in its history. During the 1969-70 academic year a separate Board of Trustees was established and Dr. Paul H. Johnson, minister to the Martin Street Baptist Church, Raleigh, North Carolina, was elected Interim Chairman. Thus a new reality came into existence at the Shaw University — a seminary separate by charter and governance from the University itself.

On May 12, 1970 the Board of Trustees of the Shaw Divinity School unanimously approved a three degree program for the Shaw Divinity School: the Master of Divinity (M. Div.), the Master of Religion (M. Rel.) and the Bachelor of Theology (B. Th.).

We're A Winner

*We're a winner!
And never let anybody say
"Boy, you can't make it
'Cause a feeble mind
Is in your way."
No more tears do we cry
And we have finally dried our eyes.
And we're movin' on up,
Movin' on up,
Lord have mercy,
We're movin' on up,
Movin' on up.
We're living proof, and all's alert
That we're, tao, from the good black earth.
And we're a winner!
And everybody knows it, tao.
We just keep on pushin'
Like your leaders tell you ta.
At last that blessed day has come
And I don't care where you come from.
We're all movin' on up,
Movin' on up,
Lord have mercy,
We're movin' on up.*

*We're movin' on up,
Movin' on up.
Lord have mercy,
We're movin' on up.
I don't mind leavin' here
To show the world we have no fear,
'Cause we're a winner
And everybody knows it, tao.
We just keep on pushin'
Like your leaders tell you ta.
At last that blessed day has come
And I don't care where you come from.
We're just gonna move on up
'Cause we're a winner!*

The Young Gifted And Black

TO BE YOUNG, GIFTED, AND BLACK

*To be young, gifted, and black —
Oh, what a lovely, precious dream.
To be young, gifted, and black —
Open your heart to what I mean.
In this whole world, you know,
There's a million boys and girls
Who are young, gifted, and black.
And that's a fact.*

*"You are young, gifted, and black,"
We must begin to tell our young.
There's a world waiting for you,
Yours is the quest that's just begun.
When you're feeling real low
There's a great truth that you should know —
To be young, gifted, and black
Is where it's at.*

*To be young, gifted, and black —
Oh, how I've longed to know the truth.
There are times when I look back
And I am haunted by my youth.
But my joy of today
Is that we can all be proud to say —
To be young, gifted, and black
Is where it's at!*

Bear Of The Year

Dr. King Virgil Cheek

The editor and staff of the 1970 edition of the Shaw University Bear had relatively no problems in the selection of this year's "Bear of the Year." Although we had many candidates from which to choose, it was clear to us that none from any level of the Shaw family had contributed as much to the spirit and direction of the University in 1969-70 as had Dr. Cheek, our president. It is therefore only fitting that we should honor his energies and commitment to the modern legend that is Shaw University by acknowledging him as the 1969-70 Shaw University "Bear of the Year."

The Shaw University: A Historical Review

Henry Martin Tupper

A yearbook of Shaw University would not be totally acceptable without a reference to the history of the university. The past of this university is essential towards an understanding of the present and future of the school. It is our fondest hope that those of you who have attended Shaw University for any amount of time can look at our history with utmost pride and rededication, and those of you who are unfamiliar with the school can gain noteworthy insights into what heritage it is that keeps Shaw University ever striving forward.

Kermit "K.C." Burton
Editor of the 1970 Bear

Before the smoke from the guns of the Civil War had fully settled, a recently discharged soldier from the Union Army was en route to Raleigh on the first train that passed over the rails of the Seaboard after the cessation of the hostilities. On October 10, 1865, Henry Martin Tupper, native of Monson, Massachusetts and graduate of Amherst College and Newton Theological Seminary, arrived in Raleigh.

On December 1, 1865, in a room of the old Guion Hotel a few illiterate ex-slaves sat at the feet of Tupper in a theological class. Out of this seed was formed the adventure in higher education for the black man which pioneered a new era in American higher education. It was thus that Shaw University was born.

By mid-summer of 1866, the Raleigh Institute was formed and housed in a frame structure above a church built with student volunteer help and enrolling seventy-five students for training as ministers and teachers. In 1870, the name was changed to the Shaw Collegiate Institute and the present site was purchased. That same year, construction was begun on the major building to be placed in the center of the new campus. This building, Shaw Hall, was named for the benefactor, who had provided the funds for the purchase of the new campus, and for whom the school was named, Elijah J. Shaw of Wales, Massachusetts. Mobilizing students, ex-slaves and others, this impressive building was constructed entirely by unskilled laborers who dug the clay, molded the brick by hand, felled the timber and erected a structure which was vivid testimony of the newly freedman's determination to win his way into the ways and woof of American life.

Contrary to much prevailing pedagogical opinion of the time, Tupper conceived of Shaw as an institution which would become a full fledged university. By 1875, this vision was realized with the granting of a charter by an act of the General Assembly designating the institution as the Shaw University and stipulating that: . . . no pupil or pupils should ever be excluded from the benefits arising therefrom . . . on accounts of race, color, or previous conditions of servitude.

To fulfill the hope of an educational institution whose services would be available to all, and which would contribute significantly to the rebuilding of a nation divided by war and strife, the founder and the first president set out to establish a faculty of distinguished, dedicated men and women, and programs of education which would become known for their integrity and high quality.

Seventeen years later Shaw had become a vital force in the region and the nation. The Leonard Medical School was formed in 1882, and breaking with the pattern of medical education then in vogue, opened as a medical school with a four year course of study based on a four year collegiate degree. Before the end of the nineteenth century the university consisted of a school of medicine, school of pharmacy, school of law, school of theology, school of arts and sciences, and a normal school. To its campus came students from everywhere and its influence was being felt as its graduates returned to their communities as physicians, pharmacists, clergymen, lawyers, and teachers. Throughout its history, Shaw has played a leading role in the education of young men and women. Each year the Shaw University leaves an indelible mark on the field of education and enhances educational philosophies. More than 15,000 students have studied in its classrooms, and it counts among its alumni a large number of leaders throughout the nation.

1965 became an important year in the school's history for it was in that year that the university planned a new building program and a new academic outlook called the "Shaw Plan of Education". The "Shaw Plan" is designed principally to meet the peculiar needs of the time in which we live. Now in its fifth year of operation, the "Shaw Plan" has been labeled a success and is being imitated nationally.

Under the leadership of a new president, Dr. King V. Cheek, 1970 has been the year when Shaw proved that all learning does not take place in the classroom and that our universities in this country must not seclude themselves from the mainstream of the life of the nation. As Shaw University moves further into its second century of service with pride and eager anticipation, we keep in mind that "Education and Learning go hand in hand."

The United Heritage Choir

Danny White — Biographical Sketch

Daniel D. White was born December 22, 1947. He is a graduate of New Rochelle High School where he participated in the A & B Choir. His music career began at the age of eight under the supervision of his aunt, Mrs. Ann Davis. In later years he was directed by Loretta Madison. His love for music prompted him to participate in his church choir and the all city choir. After transferring from Va. Union University he joined the Shaw Chorale Society and later formed the United Heritage Gospel Choir.

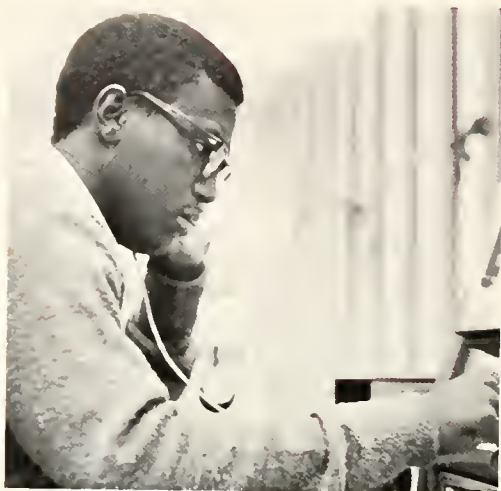

The United Heritage Gospel Choir: A Brief History

In the school year of 1968-69 a group of dedicated Christians would often gather around the piano played by Mr. Daniel White and would sing to glorify God through song. These students gathered around the piano after the rehearsals of the University Chorale Society, after University prayer services, and any other time that they could lift up their voices in song.

After a while Danny White took it upon himself to start a gospel choir. For a while in the beginning things went along smoothly, but after a while difficulties began to set in and some of the choir began to split. This split was the first unfortunate defeat of the choir but Danny White did not call it quits.

Early in the 1969-70 school year, Danny took it upon himself again to try to start a gospel choir. This time things looked good. At times there were more than seventy-five students coming out for choir rehearsal. In the late fall of the year the gospel choir changed its name. It became The United Heritage Gospel Choir. Secure in this change and many others, the Choir moved on.

Later in the year the girl members of the choir got together and decided to make gowns for the choir's first concert. On Friday, April 24, 1970 the Choir held their first full University concert. The performance was widely acclaimed and accepted. The Shaw community welcomes its new addition and wishes for the United Heritage Gospel Choir continued growth and success.
